BEAUTIFUL ITEMS OF FURNITURE MAKERS' ART SHOWN BY HAVERY FURNITURE COMPANY

Havery's Invites Your Account. Conveniently Located at 301 W. Broughton, Telephone 2-6188. In Savannah, Extension 2-6188. Havery's Furniture Company is a branch of the People of Bulloch County to Make Their Store Headquarters Here in Savannah Shopping. Let Them Explain Their Budget Plan Whereby Easy Payments May Be Arranged to Suit Your Convenience.

DO YOU LIVE IN A HOUSE? We are told that the difference between a house and a home depends upon the people who are the occupants. But, do those who make this assertion stop to think that the character and disposition of people depend upon their surroundings? Go into an unkempt, poorly furnished room and see how long you keep your sunny disposition.

It is indeed true that, more than any other material thing, the furniture makes the home.

Dependable and beautiful, Havery's has spared nothing to give every man and woman in this section an opportunity to have a tastefully, if not elaborately, furnished home.

It does not take a fortune to furnish a home. These enterprising business men show you that there is no reason why any ambitious person, with a normal income, should not live in a home furnished attractively in every detail. When you look over the stock of this store you will realize that people depend upon their surroundings? Go into an unkempt, poorly furnished room and see how long you keep your sunny disposition.

That is why the Farm Bureau leaders need lots of members, Mr. Mikell declared. He urged those present to make a stronger bid for their increased membership than they had ever had before.

Good News For Pedestrians

THERE'S GOOD NEWS for pedestrians. Well, it sounds good, anyway.

But, like so much good-sounding news, there's always a gimmick somewhere.

The Georgia Safety Council is now sponsoring a "State-wide safety campaign known as 'Operation Safety.'"

From October 15 through November 30 special emphasis will be placed on pedestrian safety, with the Georgia Junior Chamber of Commerce spearheading this phase of the safety program.

During the year 1949, 143 pedestrians were killed and 3,575 others were injured in Georgia as a result of accidents involving pedestrians and automobiles.

W. E. Mitchell, president of the Georgia Safety Council has figured it out that the total economic losses from pedestrian accidents alone in Georgia last year amounted to $9,795,000.

As you stand at the traffic light to cross the street you don't calculate the risk you are taking. You step from the curb on the green light and a car, also making a turn on the same green light, has the advantage over you. The driver of the car feels pretty sure that you'll stop for him, even though you have the right-of-way as provided in the Georgia Motor Vehicle Traffic Laws. The law says: "motorist must always slow down until the pedestrian is safely across."

But you can't be sure that the driver has read the Motor Vehicle Laws and his advantage over you is overwhelming. So, to save your life or to avoid injury, you give way to the motorist . . .

But it's not right. And there's more to it than just obeying the law . . . simple courtesy enters into it. But citizens who are essentially ladies and gentlemen ordinarily forget the rules of courtesy when they get behind the steering wheel of the family car, forgetting that they oftentimes are pedestrians, too.

And just because the law is on the side of the pedestrian when he is crossing the street correctly, it doesn't mean that you have a charm with you which you can flaunt in the face of the motorist. There is a responsibility on you to use discretion also.

A safety campaign for pedestrians is good. But it's only as good as the co-operation the pedestrian gets from drivers to the local police authorities.

To the pedestrian: Watch your step.
To the motorist: Give the pedestrian a break.

We Salute the Old Timers

WHEN OUR National Guard gathered here and shovelled off for Camp Stewart, upon receiving mobilization orders, we saw it as a close-knit organization. You and you, and you, whose husband, brother, or son was in it, saw it as made up of individuals—and they were members of your family.

With its mobilization, our National Guard was commended by top Army brass on its reaching maximum operating efficiency so swiftly.

And there's a reason for it.

Within our unit there is a firm core of 23 "ole-timers." They are men who, though different from the ordinary soldier, were interested in the Guard. They believed it to be a good thing for the national interest.

Many of these men had gone through World War II together, had seen action together, had suffered hardships together—and that made for a closer feeling.

They were with the National Guard when it was mobilized in 1940. It was for "one year" then, they were told, but it lasted through 1945. Then, when it was re-activated in 1947, these men got back in. Now they are gone again—for twenty-one months, they were told.

We take our hat off to these ole-timers. We believe the mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers of the youngsters who joined the new National Guard have more faith in their safety, knowing their welfare is being guarded by these men of experience.

Here are the ole-timers. The rank in parentheses is that which they held in 1940:

Lt. Col. Henry J. Ellis (captain); Major LaFiee D. Collins (2nd Lieut.); Major William P. Rimes (1st Lieut.); Major John D. Underwood (Sergeant); Captain James S. Kenan (sergeant); Captain Gene L. Hodges (corporal); Capt. Leland Riggs (PFC); 1st Lieut. Wilbur L. Garrick (PFC); 2nd Lieut. Ewell B. Bailey (corporal); Warrant Officer Thomas M. Forbes (private); 1st Lieut. James O. Edensfield (private); 2nd Lieut. Fred T. Lanier Jr. (private); 2nd Lieut. George C. Williams (private); M-Sgt. Clarence W. Brack (1st Sgt.); Sgt. 1C William G. Cone (PFC); Sgt. 1C Cannon Donaldson (PFC); Sgt. 1C Warren G. Harper (PFC); Sgt. Albert V. Blackburn (private); Sgt. Neal B. Strange (private); Sgt. Henry B. Waters (corporal); Cpl. Obren C. Creasy (private); Cpl. Homer B. Robertson (PFC); and Cpl. John Holland (PFC).

It does our heart good to see our young folk going afar and being a credit to their home community. It's part of the reason Statesboro is the fine community it is.

We Commend City Council

THIS WEEK we commend the city council on its move to set up a housing authority for Statesboro. We believe it has the approval of citizens of Statesboro who are aware of the keen need for adequate housing for low-income families of this community.

Have You Joined Up Yet?

HAVE YOU joined? The Band Boosters' Club, we mean.

If not, better do so. We'd hate to think of your not being a member of the lodge. There'll be meetings, you get a membership card, and you'll have a vote . . . and everything.

But the principal thing will be the grand glow of satisfaction you'll get when you join up, giving tangible evidence that you believe in the Statesboro High School Blue Devils Band and believe it to be a credit to the community.

Editor's Uneasy Chair

WE WERE GUESTS of the University of Georgia Athletic Association last Saturday when the Bulldogs and the boys from North Carolina met in Sanford Stadium and played a 6-0 football game.

We rode the Nancy Hanks to Tennesse, where a Trailways bus met us and took us to Athens and put us out right at the football stadium.

Being pessimistic about the weather, we took a topcoat—which was a mistake, for the day was as hot as a firecracker.

Whether or not you like football, a game between two great colleges in a big stadium is still an attraction big enough to give you your money's worth.

The color—of the crowds, the characters one sees, the trip, the bands, the cheerleaders, the stadium—all make for an afternoon to make you forget your worries.

The mayor of "Muttie" Switch," by his own admission, was present and he was loud in his support of the Bulldogs, and was stern in dealing with his citizens.

"Chittin' Switch," for he kept shouting, "All right, all you folks from Chittin' Switch, get a cheer round!" He ruled completely over the section in which Dan McGill Jr., publicity director of the Bulldogs, had placed us.

It was a great game—filled with heartbreakers for supporters of the Bulldogs, and for the visitors. Passes, short by fingertips; long runs, short by shoelaces; first downs, short by half-inches. Strong hearts revved up by spectacular playing . . .

And it ended nothing to nothing! We saw Virginia Lee Floyd, Dr. and Mrs. Wally Floyd's daughter, from Agnes Scott, over to the game. We saw Ann Waters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Waters, a majorie with the Georgia Bulldogs band. She put on a swell performance with the other five majories at the half-time show. We remembered that Ann was a majorie with the Statesboro Blue Devils band two years ago.

On the bus coming home we got to know Edward Hooper, who married Jurelle Shuptrine, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Shuptrine, who owned a shoe store here for years.

We talked about Hubert Shuptrine, who married Myrtis Alderman, daughter of Mr. Alderman and the late Jim H. Alderman; we talked about the Shuptrines—Harold, now in Atlanta; Marion, now in Miami; Evelyn, Mr. Hooper is connected with the Savannah Sugar Refinery, and he remembers James Bland, who at one time worked with the refinery.

We talked about Statesboro, and agreed that it is the finest town in the country. We got to know Mr. McAfee, who is with the Central Railway, and knows Alfred Dorman, Thad Morris, Walter Aldred, Grady Ataway, George Bean, and Doy Akins, and many other Statesboro people, about whom we talked. We, too, agreed that Statesboro is a fine town.

And it's to be had right at home. But there's something about a big game that gets you. Maybe it's just the excitement to get away from home, the routine at the office or the monotony of the job. No, agreed, when you got free—that's that's something.

The New Trend In Home Building

By VIRGINIA RUSSELL

The new trend in home building today seems to emphasize one large room. In a recent issue of the Atlanta Journal an Atlanta photographer, Mr. Ralph Johnson, was quoted as saying, "The house I dream about is built around one tremendous room. The room is two stories high and in gymnasium proportions. The main trouble with many houses today is that they're chopped up into so many little rooms . . ."

During a recent visit I discovered the big room in reality. A girlhood friend has moved to the country with her family, and their remodeled farm house has the big room. They do just about everything in it. The furniture consists of a dressing table, a desk, a sofa, and a huge dining room table. Truly, it represents almost the interior of a house without walls.

"Another friend who lives in Atlanta," showed me the plans which she and her husband have drawn up for their farm house (and this gal was born and reared in Atlanta). They have bought a hundred acres out near Riverside and are planning to build right away. The plans really display the tremendous room—to be exact, it is twenty by forty feet. She intends to have bunk beds around the walls for her four children to use as rest bunks, reading bunks, etc., and if it becomes necessary, for an overflow of company. The main floor area of the room will be devoted to "centers"; for instance, there will be a sewing "center," an eating "center," a game "center," and several others. As for her and my husband, and our plans for a house—were we to build again—we'd differ with this trend toward the big room. I, for example, would have a bigger kitchen with the working center roped off so that I might cook in peace without the whole family under foot. They could just hang over the ropes and look. And there would be a separate sink where they all could wash their hands. It would be far enough away from the kitchen sink to leave me, I hope, my sink free for washing dishes, foods, etc., without wondering what was being washed off those hands into my dishwasher or onto my vegetables. (A bathroom off the kitchen would not help—they couldn't stand to leave the kitchen that long.) In the new

By Jane

Some of us may not realize what it means to be a Gray Lady. Here in Statesboro, we see them at their post of duty when the Bloodmobile arrives and some may think that's the extent of their services. But let's go farther with our thinking. It's a long, tiresome, soul-killing business lying in a hospital bed waiting for wounds to heal — or just waiting and knowing you'll never get out.

But the problem is less severe when you have the help of such as the Gray Lady Corps of the Red Cross. The Gray Ladies are volunteers who give their time, energy and interest to the welfare of the servicemen.

They help the wounded soldier, sailor or Airman over the roughest parts of the road back.

Here at home a Gray Lady can write letters, remember their birthdays, and think up unusual gifts that may be inexpensive, yet entertaining for a man who has to spend day after day in bed while the long process of healing goes along. And it is so nice when we have Gray Ladies who radiate charm and there's happiness wherever she goes. Remember that many of the recruits should come from the ranks of younger women.

One gray lady puts it this way, "It's a satisfying way of life", of course, we're hoping that the war will stop before it crystallizes into a world cataclysm. For if it so happens then we would automatically become very gray ladies.

Now for a "Once in a life time story". It occurred just across the street from me. I am beginning to believe that news follows me, like murder catches up with all detectives on a vacation. A Mr. Walker drove up at the Pure Oil Service Station now operated by J. B. Williams. A car with an out-of-state tag. A man approached J. B. and inquired, "This is Statesboro, isn't it?" J. B. said "It is." Then the man asked the way to the White-way Court. J. B. gave him the proper directions and the man, Mr. Walker, went on to inquire, "By the way, could you tell me where I could find a young man, his name is J. B. Williams?" J. B. was alerted. He probably wondered what it was this time. He batted his eyes a bit and said, "You're talking to J. B. Williams." The gentleman was amazed, incredulous. As if needing more confirmation, he said, "Do you mean that you really are J. B. Williams?" exclaiming his hand as he spoke. "Certainly", J. B. replied. Then in a man's Mr. Walker said, "I have a gentleman in the car who wants to see you." The man in the car was elderly (78 as J. B. learned later). He was the father of the man who sought J. B. As soon as he said, "Walker", J. B. responded quickly, "No way."

A filling station by the side of the road, thousands of miles across the ocean, yet the proprietor meets a man who received him as his overnight guest in the Land of the Midnight Sun, who gave him two wonderful meals. That man was looking for a Georgia G. I. because J. B. on bidding him good-bye, added, "If you ever come to Georgia, look me up."

The elderly man from Norway was a professor of English in a University in Norway and was in America to visit his son. We live in a wonderful world.

Think of it. Three girls from Statesboro are getting into the swim. And we're just waiting to hear from others. Jackie Zetterow, going along with the A. D. P. and selected by a fraternity as their sponsor for the Pandora Beauty Revue. Donell Thompson pledged Zeta Tau Alpha, both among the oldest and largest sororities. Then there's Ann Waters, who is a Dolphin and a whole lot more last year, and this year she steps up her pace as a majorette in the Bull Dogs Band. Please tell us what happens next.

Gee, Marguerite, you shouldn't do that. Give us free dinners out at Bryant's kitchen, so wonderfully cooked and prepared that who had thought we did very well at home, find that home cooking is getting sort of tasteless. Now after we enjoyed, on different occasions, turkey roasted to a golden brown, southern fried chicken and out of this world salads and baskets of bread, desserts that make you feel the waitress waiting while you try to decide on which you'd like when you really feel you'd like a bit of them all. I feel, by now, Marguerite, you get the idea that I had a wonderful time at your lovely kitchen.

Speaking of coincidences — we felt that that turkey's brought us something along such lines. The morning mail brought me a card from my sister-in-law, Hazel Hollingsworth, who gave me her son's address: First Lieutenant Connor Wright Hollingsworth, S.Q.D., U.S. Naval Hospital, Marj Island, Vallejo, Calif. Wright received a compound hip fracture in the Inchon invasion from machinegun bullets. On the same mail we received an air mail letter from Leandro, Calif., from a cousin who is visiting her daughter. The card was from Mrs. Sam Lee, Wendell Burke's and Claire Franklin's mother. We pulled out our Atlas and discovered that everyone we know out West lives practically in a straight line. From the U.S. Hospital there followed in close succession, Oakland, Alameda, and San Leandro. So, before we did another thing, we sent an air mail to Cousin Pearl to visit Wright, since she is the only person in the family who can reach him right now.

There is a destiny that marks our ways—but in order to escape a letter of dismissal we stop—maybe—just in time.

As ever, JANE

Oh, about dismissals—we want to thank Henry's for giving us time on his Monday's program for our interview with Ann Evans and Donald Flanders as they led off Band Loyalty Week with a wonderful radio program. And I thank Editor Coleman for practically putting the words in our mouths.

You Can Tell a Man By the Rules He Keeps

On that last beautiful day we had, it's really not surprising that young Skitter Roberts and Bud Boyd decided to ditch their books and take off for Sandy Creek. But they made one mistake. Got kind of hot walking, so they thumbed a ride—from Mr. Wilson, our brand-new School Superintendent! A few minutes later, both boys were back in geography class.

Mr. Wilson had to tell their parents—school regulations. But he pointed out that maybe a real "talking to" was all they needed. From where I sit, I'm afraid poor Bud Boyd is in for quite a lecture. His dad, Andy, who owns the Garden Tavern, is quite a stickler for living up to the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. Under this voluntary program, retailers selling beer cooperate by keeping their places of business clean, bright, and orderly. Andy follows this Program to the letter. "Once you make 'em, don't break 'em," is his motto about rules and regulations.

THE BAND STAND

By ANN EVANS

Recently Mr. Mac, Don Flanders and I went to a meeting at the Jackie Hotel along with representatives from various clubs in town. The purpose of this meeting was to organize a Band Boosters Club, which is to help support our band.

Everyone there seemed to really be interested in helping us, and ready to start the membership drive. We were all eager to begin and so the drive starts this week. The money from the memberships will be used to buy new band equipment.

Everyone in the band enjoys working together and, of course, the fun that goes along with it. We want to express our thanks to each one who has or will join the Band Boosters Club.

Friday at the pep meeting, band letters were awarded to the following: Jimmy Bland, Lynett Price, Geraldine Lane, Wineth Fowler, Fayrene Sturgis, Bob Brannen, Nicky Brown, Carey Donaldson, William Russell, Wesley Carroll, Guy McLendon, Mary Jo Hodges, Shirley Purser, Ann Evans, Peggy Harville, Mildred Ranew, Tommy Singletary, and Edward Brannen.

Time to get those summer kinks out of your Buick!

There's a change of the year for your Buick, too, stalwart as it is! Hot summer driving has taken its toll—in played-out lubricants, spark timing that may have slipped off a notch or two over the many miles, a carburetor that would probably give you better mileage and snap if it were properly adjusted now for fall driving.

Point is—your Buick will feel a lot friskier in the trying days to come if you let your Buick dealer get those summer kinks out of its system now! Just drive in—say you want (1) a fall tune-up and (2) a regular Lubricare—and see how much rewarded you are, for a small fee!

Do it this week, will you? Before the rush, you can be served more promptly.

Who Runs America?

the Congress? the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association

American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the proud security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. Today
